

A Celebration of Life

Senior Seder at Adult Day Care Center of Las Vegas

The Adult Day Care Center of Las Vegas was filled with seniors in a community interfaith celebration of life. A spirited seder service was conducted by Temple Sinai's Rabbi Kenneth Segel to an enthusiastic audience of seniors. Singing filled the room energizing seniors and staff alike. The Passover menu included matzo ball soup, turkey, spinach & matzo quiche, potatoes and macaroons. Luxor Chef Bonnie Mankoff volunteered providing recipes and her special magic cooking talents in the kitchen with the Center's own Chef Kenny Foster to make this a Passover dining event to remember. Temple Sinai volunteers Mary Keelor and Stan Gordon pitched-in preparing seder plates and serving. The soup featured Controller Les Jacobs special recipe and energy.

Following the seder, seniors were entertained with a special holiday concert by entertainer and favorite at the Center, Mark Miller. The seniors clapped, stomped their feet and took to the dance floor excited by the outpouring of musical spirit.

The holiday prayers reminded all present both seniors and staff of the important commitment to freedom, life and community so integral to this special holiday season.

Is a day long celebration too much? Just ask any of the Adult Day Care Center of Las Vegas Center seniors. Life is a celebration for the living. These seniors live this well.

This affirmation of life is an inspiration for the entire community. Center clients span the gamut from healthy and independent to those with physical limitations and Alzheimers Disease.

The Adult Day Care Center of Las Vegas is a community setting offering engagement to seniors, respite for caregivers and hope to both assisting seniors to remain independent in the community with dignity. It is a service offered to the entire community by Temple Sinai.